

LADIES WHO SHOOT THEIR LUNCH

SHIRAZ
2018

OVERVIEW

Growing grapes, hunting for our table and raising a farm all help our family to truly understand this land. Inspired by Matt Fowles' passion for hunting and gathering, our Ladies who Shoot their Lunch wines have been crafted to complement the textures and flavours of wild food. Vibrant in colour, intensely aromatic and fine in texture with pristine fruit flavours.

WINE ANALYSIS

Alc/Vol: 14%
Acidity: 7 g/L
pH: 3.6

COLOUR

Deep youthful vibrant purple

NOSE

Lifted blue and dark berry, pepper spice and spicy oak

PALATE

A sophisticated combination of rich berries, dark chocolate and oak spice with silky tannins and great balance, length and intensity

PEAK DRINKING

Drink now to 2029

VINEYARD REGION

Strathbogie Ranges

VINTAGE CONDITIONS

2018 was an outstanding vintage. The year was warm without being too hot, which allowed the vines to ripen the fruit to the degree we desired without any stress, resulting in all aspects of fruit composition being good. Acid was naturally maintained and other critical components of the grape for sound fermentation were plentiful.

WINEMAKING

This wine was fermented using wild yeast, with its slightly unpredictable nature, this builds more complexity in the wine. This wine was matured in various ways over 12 months as there are many components in the blend. Some parcels were matured in new and old oak, and the remaining parcel was maintained as a fresh fruity parcel in stainless steel.