Estate Grown and Family Owned Since 1970

PINOT NOIR

TASTING

Light, smooth, and easy drinking with notes of tart cherry, strawberry, and just a kiss of oak. This high elevation, cool climate Pinot Noir is crafted with minimal intervention in the cellar to reflect a pure expression of the varietal's character.

This wine is aged in a combination of neutral French oak barrels and upright oak tanks

THE VINEYARDS

Guinness McFadden has been growing grapes organically for over 40 years. He planted his vineyard on a beautiful peice of land that straddles the Russian River, neighbors the Mendocino National Forest and sits up at 1,200 feet in altitude. Temperatures regularly plummet 40-45 degrees each night, allowing a longer maturation period. In this climate, grapes develop a fullness of flavor that is balanced by a crisp acidity.
